Home assessment reduction increases other tax bills

BY DENA BISNETTE

Owners of non-residential property, particularly that used for commercial purposes, will find themselves paying more taxes this year.

Taxes on owner-occupied, single family residences went down for the 1986-87 fiscal year through actions taken in the 1986 session of the Mississippi Legislature, but commercial property owners did not receive the same break.

Owners of class II property, which includes commercial property; multiple residences such as apartments and condominiums; undeveloped land; and farmland; are still under the same 15 percent assessment as last year, according to Lee Bennett.

Bennett, reappraisal specialist for the Hancock County Tax Collector and Assessor's Office, said the reduction of the assessment on owner-occupied residences from 15 percent to 10 percent helped cause overall tax rates to go up.

Because residential property owners got the reduced assessment, the commercial property owners are feeling the increases most, Bay St. Louis City Clerk Edward Favre said.

"This legislation caught business people in the middle," he explained. According to Favre, part of the reason city taxes had to be raised was to keep funding levels even.

Bennett's figures indicate that the largest rate of increase, 60.5 percent, has been in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District, where taxes went from 24.2 mills in 1985 to 38.85 mills in 1986.

The next largest change, 46.9 percent, was in the Bay St. Louis city taxes. Those taxes increased from 21 mills in 1985 to 30.85 mills in 1986.

Hancock County School District taxes increased 20 percent, going from 20.92 mills in 1985 to 25.12 mills in 1986.

The lowest tax rate increase, 10.5 percent, was in Hancock County, where the 1985 rate of 34.41 mills has increased to 38.03 mills.

Meology program to be offered to city, county sixth graders

BY DENA BISNETTE

When sixth graders in Hancock County and Bay St. Louis-Waveland schools return to their classrooms in January, they will find a new program about drugs and themselves called Meology.

Meology is a program provided through the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission and is also taught in some of the area's private schools.

The 17-week program was taught to about 400 Hancock County children last fall and this year it is being moved to second semester, said Coordinator Alecia Ellis of Bay St. Louis.

The school districts allow time for the Meology teacher to come into the classrooms once each week.

Some of the funding for training Meology teachers is provided through Mendez Foundation in Tampa, Fla., which is dedicated to drug and health-related education, said Jerry Medford of Diamondhead who serves as both Meology program president and commission director.

In addition, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors has provided $4,200.

Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of retired telephone company employees, provides all printed material needed for the program.

The program is being taught in all three coastal counties and has received support from local sheriffs as well as District Attorney Cono Caramma, Medford said.

Medford and Ellis recently met with Governor William Allain regarding Meology and Medford said the governor expressed support for the program.

"The governor told us that he feels it is probably the type of program that could fit into the state's educational training for teachers," Medford said.

He added that Meology is compatible with other programs that teach students about drugs, including the Say No and Peer Pressure classes, but it targets a younger age group.

FATALITY—The imprint of a tree trunk shows on the side of a Monte Carlo driven by BaySide Park resident Carl Richard Malmstrom, 19, who died Friday as the result of a one-vehicle accident on Diamondhead Drive East. The accident, in which the car ran off the road, hit a tree and turned over on its side, happened shortly before 5:30 p.m., Sheriff Ronald Peterson said. Malmstrom's death is still being investigated. See story on Page 2A. (Hancock County Sheriff's Department photo)

Buccaneer proposal is compatible with beach plan

BY DENA BISNETTE

A proposal for privatization in Buccaneer State Park is compatible with the Hancock County Sand Beach Master Plan.

The proposal, if implemented, would allow a private developer to provide restaurant and lodging facilities on leased property inside the park.

Jeff Taylor of South Mississippi Planning and Development District, who has assisted the Hancock County Sand Beach Technical Advisory Council with formulation of the master plan, said the park proposal "is more than we had hoped for" and is compatible with the plan.

COL. CHARLES BLALOCK

Taylor made the statement at a meeting that included Park Manager Greg Smith and other rangers, officials from the Mississippi Research and Development Center and Mississippi Department of Natural Resources, and local government representatives. Local entities represented included City of Waveland, Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Sand Beach Technical Advisory Council.

According to Taylor, the beachfront in front of the park is one of the areas the master plan targets for development.

The plan contains a statement explaining that the State Parks Commission, an arm of the State Department of Natural Resources, could be asked to help with the funding for beachfront development in front of Buccaneer and with management of recreation facilities there.

Mayor John Longo Jr. said the proposed site for the project, which calls for a restaurant and lodging development near the existing Wave Pool, is within Waveland's zoning requirements.

The zoning requires that any development within 500 feet of the beach be residential.

The proposed site is about a quarter-mile from the beach, State Department of Natural Resources Director Charles Blalock said.

The mayor, who is also chairman of the wastewater district board, requested an impact statement regarding the increased demand on the city's sewerage and utility systems.

"We want to make sure we can provide the services," Longo said.

Marilyn Beech, manager of special services for the Mississippi Research and Development Center, said the center is planning to take proposals from developers interested in providing the facilities and turn them over to an evaluation team with both public and private members.

She said the evaluation team has not yet been selected but will probably include some local officials among its members.

She added that the center, which is working on the project in conjunction with Blalock's department, began soliciting proposals in October but may do some additional advertising at the request of local residents.

"We had thought we could award a contract in about a month, but it looks like we will have to extend that time to 6 weeks," Beech said.

Details have yet to be worked out on whether the developer of the final proposal will receive tax breaks that Chamber of Commerce representatives say could give a lodging facility unfair advantages over other local hotels and motels.

However, it is fairly certain that a long-term lease, probably 25 years with a 25-year option to renew, will be used, Blalock said.

The park land can not be sold and the site includes Sixteenth Section land, he explained.

"We want a project you're going to like as well as us," Blalock said, "and if we can't do that, we're not going to do it. We don't want to ram it down your throats just because it's our park."

BaySide man dies in one-car crash

BY DENA BISNETTE

A BaySide Park man who died Friday evening has become the county's first holiday season traffic fatality for 1986.

According to Hancock County Medical Examiner Harold Stiglet, Carl Richard Malmstrom, 19, was pronounced dead at 6:30 p.m. at Hancock General Hospital after a one-vehicle accident in Diamondhead.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said that the blue 1979 Monte Carlo Malmstrom was driving struck a tree on Diamondhead Drive East at about 5:22 p.m.

When deputies arrived, the vehicle was lying on its left side, partially wrapped around a tree, and Diamondhead Rescue personnel were trying to get Malmstrom out of the car. Investigating Deputy George Burleson said.

"That tree was just implanted in the car. When the wrecker moved the vehicle, it dragged the tree a few feet before it fell out of the car into the road," Burleson said.

He said accounts from several witnesses indicated that Malmstrom was driving "at an excessive speed" when the accident occurred.

Peterson said investigators are still looking into the possibility that Malmstrom had a passenger with him and that the passenger left the accident scene before authorities arrived.

Stiglet said Saturday morning that he was still trying to determine what specific injuries caused Malmstrom's death.

Also assisting at the scene was Mobile Medic Ambulance Service.

NSTL exceeds Combined Agencies Campaign goal

Employees of the National Space Technology Laboratories have exceeded their annual Combined Agencies Campaign goal again this year, donating $128,564.

The total represents 102 percent of NSTL's goal of $126,612, according to Jerry Hlass, NSTL director and drive chairman. Contributions are continuing to come in from NSTL employees on assignment at other locations.

The annual drive is a combination of the Combined Federal Campaign for civil servants and the industrial campaign for contractor personnel. It is the only charity drive conducted at the installation, which employs approximately 4,800 people.

Funds collected through the CAC are distributed to the United Way organizations of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties in Mississippi, the Greater New Orleans area, including St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana, and to the National Health Agencies and the International Service Agencies.

Assisting Hlass with this year's campaign are Bob Gorham of Pan Am, industrial vice chairman, and NASA's Myron Webb, federal vice chairman.

Stores, offices list holiday schedules

BY DENA BISNETTE

County and city offices will be closed on New Year's Day, but most grocery stores, department stores and other retailers will remain open.

Waveland City Hall will close Wednesday and will reopen Jan. 5. Thursday garbage collections will be moved to Wednesday.

Gulf Coast Waste and Disposal, which conducts garbage collections for Bay St. Louis, will also move its Wednesday collections to Thursday.

Bay St. Louis City Hall will also be closed for the holiday.

The Hancock County Courthouse and annex will close Thursday and Friday. All county offices will reopen according to regular schedules on Jan. 5.

Offices closed for the New Year's Day holiday include the county road maintenance superintendent's office at Highway 43 Community Center in Kiln, and those who have road emergencies during the holiday are asked to call 255-3367.

The county landfill at Catahoula will be closed New Year's Day.

Banks and lending institutions will also be closed New Year's Day.

Chain grocery stores open Thursday will include Jitney Jungle, open until 8 p.m.; Delchamps, which will remain on its usual 24-hour schedule; Diamondhead Supermarket, open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.; National, open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Winn-Dixie, which will close at 10 p.m. rather than 11 p.m. on New Year's Eve but will remain open from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m. New Year's Day.

NOTICE TO MOTOR VEHICLE OWNERS

Legislative Enactment Requiring Odometer Disclosure on Transfer of Motor Vehicles

The Motor Vehicle Title Law was amended by the 1986 regular session of the legislature. Mississippi is now among the majority of states requiring the transferor of a motor vehicle to make an odometer disclosure statement. A new certificate of title issued by the State Tax Commission after January 1, 1987, will include the odometer reading as part of the required descriptive data identifying the motor vehicle for which the certificate of title was issued.

The changes in the law require:

1. The transferor of a motor vehicle to make an odometer disclosure statement either:
  - a. on a notarized bill of sale, including the odometer disclosure statement, "in a form approved by the State Tax Commission,"
  - b. on the previous certificate of title if there are provisions for odometer disclosure in the assignment and warranty of title by the transferor, if not then by notarized bill of sale, as described in 1 (a); and
  - c. For each transfer which has intervened since the previous certificate of title there shall be included as a supporting document a bill of sale in a form approved by the State Tax Commission including a completed odometer disclosure statement.

This office will be happy to assist those individuals selling or transferring a motor vehicle, in order to comply with this new legislation.

James Lagasse Jr.

Longtime Waveland resident James Lagasse Jr. was laid to rest yesterday.

Jimmy, as he was known by so many of his friends, had been an inspiration to many, and was best known for his chairmanship of the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon drive in this area.

A pillar of the Waveland Civic Association, Jimmy was so helpful to anyone in need.

One wonders just where he got the time to do everything he did for his fellowman.

He was there to help people of all ages, the youngsters with Muscular Dystrophy and the seniors with Meals on Wheels.

Waveland will not be the same without Jimmy, yet he will be long remembered by the citizens of Hancock County.

To his wife, children and grandchildren and family, we pray that God will be with you, and we at The Sea Coast Echo know we have lost a dear friend.

Quotables by CUEVAS

Many residents celebrate the Holiday Season with a live Christmas tree.

On Christmas Day we noted someone had already taken their tree down and thrown it on the side of the road in Bay St. Louis.

Every year after Christmas we see trees thrown all over the place. All it takes is for most trees to be cut in half and wrapped with a piece of string and then placed outside for garbage collection.

This should not be too big of a project for persons using a live tree and wanting to dispose of it properly.

There is just too much garbage and trash being thrown illegally on our streets.

This is the time of the year for everyone to review their New Year resolutions which they should be making in a few days.

We will make several resolutions ourselves and probably like most folks will break them within a few days.

This would be a good time for persons wanting to kick the habit of smoking to make a try at stopping.

One way for a person wanting to stop smoking to begin is to make a try at giving up the habit.

We know a lot of folks with a smoking habit, and hope they get the message.

THE NEED FOR ACTION ON COUNTY UNIT

Members of the Senate's Committee on County Affairs came to the Capitol a few days ago to talk about legislation for the 1987 session. One of the items on the agenda was the issue of county unit.

Mississippians, among the most heavily taxed citizens in the nation based on ability to pay, are aware that legislative study committees for more than two decades now have been recommending legislation requiring counties to operate road programs under the unit system.

This simply means eliminating the present system operated in most counties in Mississippi, a system which permits a five-way split of county roads funds among five supervisors in five districts and the operation of five road programs in each county.

Legislative and other study committees have for years pointed to "millions and millions" of poorly used tax dollars in the operation of county road programs. Meanwhile, approximately ten counties in Mississippi have voluntarily moved to the unit system, or they are in the process of moving to the unit system.

It appears that a legislatively mandated unit system for each county will be necessary if we are to realize the best and most effective use of county road dollars.

The Mississippi Senate would do well to begin the 1987 legislative year with swift and decisive action on this issue.

Shaping the future a responsibility of today's citizens

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:
Re: Project 2001 A Look to Our Future

Project 2001 is currently a dream. It could become a reality by the joint venture of civic, business, and governmental leaders in the area.

The future is an opportunity waiting with possibilities limited only by our own imagination.

Objective: Develop a plan to guide us over the next 15 years in meeting the challenges of growth while maintaining the style of life we cherish. Encourage a creative and caring citizen planning to shape the future rather than be shaped by the future.

Method: Task forces to address critical issues in our community's future: transportation, education, economic development, environment and natural resources, arts and recreation, governance, crime prevention, and health, housing, human services might be such issues.

Help and guidance from citizens of county and cities sought to develop broad recommendations and choices.

Public forum - a "Town meeting for the year 2001" would give a sense of direction to advance with blueprints for action. A consensus for the community we hope to have at the dawn of the new century would be made by those who have chosen to live, work, and raise their families here.

Citizens could participate in helping to prioritize the project 2001 goals by attending the public forum or writing comments to describe feelings about the critical issues facing our community. "The future is our to shape." Let your hands and ideas help fashion it.

Senator Nevin Sledge of Cleveland is authoring a bill that would provide $135 million in new revenue by restoring income tax rates to what they were in 1978.

"The state is broke. The state is in the ditch. The Legislature shirked its duty this year. We should have passed a minimum $100 million tax bill. It doesn't bother me one bit that this is an election year. It shows weakness when you are not strong enough to do what you are supposed to do. It shows a sign of negativism and that's what's wrong with Mississippi today," Sledge said.

He noted that the state will be short $117 million in revenue for the next budget year if all budgets are kept at the same level as this year and if commitments mandated by law are fulfilled.

He said of the $135 million, $117 million could be used for the general fund and the remainder placed in a rainy day Stabilization Fund. Of the $117 million, Sledge wants to see cuts of $24 million to the on-campus universities restored as well as $24 million for other higher education programs such as the Medical Center and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sledge's bill would return income tax exemptions, standard deductions, and itemized deductions to their lower 1978 rates.

Senator Doug Anderson of Jackson, who supported Sledge's bill, said, "Every poll shows that the majority of the people are not opposed to a tax increase if the funds will be used to fund higher education, mental health, welfare. When you look at the alternatives and say would you rather close universities, reduce services to mental health and welfare or take a tax increase, they say they would rather take a slight tax increase than cripple the state."

Sledge congratulated the Mississippi Economic Council and the Private Council for Support of Public Higher Education for their stands supporting tax increases.

"We are not overtaxed in Mississippi. Our taxes per capita for 1985 were $871 which is next to the lowest in the nation. Our percentage of taxes per $100 of income is 34th at $10.57," Sledge said.

Taking blood pressure at home

Q: I know some people buy machines to take their own blood pressure at home. Should I be doing that too?

A: Taking the blood pressure at home usually isn't necessary, but if one day a physician recommends that a patient should do so, one shouldn't panic.

Self-administered blood pressure checks are simply a means of helping both the patient and physician determine the appropriate treatment for controlling the blood pressure.

Taking one's blood pressure isn't hard to do, but it must be done correctly, because inaccurate readings are useless to the patient and the physician.

First, when a blood pressure reading is taken at the physician's office, the blood pressure cuff is wrapped around the arm while the patient is sitting down and resting his arm on a table. The cuff becomes tight as the doctor or nurse pumps a bulb at one end.

The blood flow through the artery in the arm is eventually stopped completely, but the blood is still rushing up against the closed-off area trying to pass through. It makes a tapping sound that can be heard through a stethoscope placed on the artery.

When the tapping begins, the top number, or systolic reading is taken. This number reveals the pressure as the heart contracts and distributes blood to the organs. The blood vessel begins to open slowly as air is gradually released from the bulb and the blood moves through.

It first hits against the sides of the blood vessel, which are still constricted, and continues to make a tapping sound. The sound disappears as the air is released and the vessel is opened completely.

The bottom of diastolic number is read at that point when the heart is resting and the blood is returning to the heart to get re-oxygenated before it's pumped out again.

When a patient begins to monitor his blood pressure at home, he may have to take several readings a day to get used to the procedure, then he can reduce that to approximately twice a week - a timing that will vary from patient to patient.

Before a person proceeds to monitor the blood pressure, a doctor or nurse should carefully check the equipment he has purchased and thoroughly teach him how to take the readings.

The patient should practice with the supervision of a nurse because people can make many mistakes that result in inaccurate readings. When the procedure is learned correctly the first time, it prevents the patient from worrying about too-high or too-low readings.

It should also be remembered that blood pressure varies throughout the day.

A reliable blood pressure device can be purchased at a good drugstore for $20 to $50. There's no need to pay more, but very inexpensive equipment might not give good results. A good blood pressure cuff should last for years.

The blood pressure kit should contain the cuff, the meter (aneroid monometer), a stethoscope (either built in or unattached), and a diary for recording the readings. A physician can give more specific details about the equipment to buy.

All hypertensive patients don't need to monitor their own blood pressure. It's an individual preference which depends on the physician's opinion of the situation.

A person who chooses or is advised to take his blood pressure at home, or to help family members monitor theirs, however, can feel good about being responsible for part of his own health care.

Holiday tips for revelers given by alcoholism group

During the period from Thanksgiving through New Years, the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse, a United Way Agency, "Home of the 504-624 H-E-L-P Number," in cooperation with the various officials from municipalities, counties and cities of the area has been commemorating the 'Know When to Say When' month, urging drinkers to drink responsibly, and not to drive and drink.

With the Holiday Season at its height, the committee urges the following:

If you are hosting a party...
—Have non-alcoholic beverages available for those who cannot or who do not wish to drink;

—Have eatables, which will slow down the absorption of the alcohol;
—If you serve drinks, make them singles, not doubles and triples;
—Make the last one for the road coffee;
—Try making a non-alcoholic punch or drink (hot or cold), and if you wish a quick recipe, call the H-E-L-P number and someone during the day will be happy to suggest one;
—Finally, please don't let someone who has been drinking drive home, particularly if the person is intoxicated. Call a cab, arrange a ride, or let the person sober up at your home. It's the friendly and safe thing to do.
For drinkers, the committee suggests:

—Eat something before drinking;
—Know when to say when-know your limits;
—Don't drink and drive;
—If you have had a few too many, drink water and go to bed. Remember you can't sober up with coffee, cold showers, or walking. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the system, at the rate of approximately one (1) drink per hour.
—If drinking is causing you a problem, please call the H-E-L-P number. CADAA has been in operation for almost 37 years. Its 504 H-E-L-P number is available for confidential information, guidance and help. They can help and are eager to help.

The City of Waveland's taxes remained steady at 13.5 mills, with no increase over 1986 rates.

Most taxpayers in Waveland and Bay St. Louis, however, will feel the impact of the higher rates through the increased rates for the Bay-Waveland School District.

The increase for most county taxpayers will come from a combination of increases in county and school district rates.

Using a piece of commercial property valued at $100,000, Bennett calculated an example that showed the owner will be assessed about $15,000 in property taxes.

He also provided an example of how the taxes work in combination. The class II property owner in the city of Bay St. Louis who paid $1,194.15 for 1986 was paying $516.15 in Hancock County taxes, $63.00 in Bay-Waveland School District taxes and $315.00 in Bay St. Louis city taxes.

The 1986 total for that same property would be $1,615.95, Bennett explained. The total breaks down into $570.45 in county taxes, $582.75 in school district taxes and $462.75 in city taxes.

The increase is $421.80, including $54.30 more in county taxes, $219.75 in school district taxes and $147.75 in city taxes.

"This is basically applying to anything that is not a single family, owner-occupied residence," Bennett explained.

Tax Assessor-Collector Edward Murtagh explained that mostly city residents are being affected, since there are fewer than 800 commercial properties in the county and most of them are located in Bay St. Louis or Waveland.

Regardless of whether the property in question is commercial or other class II lands, the owners "really started feeling this around October" when the new assessments became effective, he added.

Favre said the new legislation was only a part of the problem for Bay St. Louis, and added that he has been receiving telephone inquiries regarding the higher rates.

He said the city not only had to increase taxes to cover the decreased assessment to keep funding levels the same as last year, but had to add new tax levies.

Those will cover municipal bonds for a $2.5 million water and sewerage extension project, Favre explained.

In addition, the city, like the county, must fill the school district's request under state law but has no power to determine the amount of that request.

Favre said part of the increase property owners in both school districts are feeling comes from the need to pay for new programs mandated by the Education Reform Act of 1982 but not funded by the legislature. These include kindergarten.

In the Bay-Waveland District, taxpayers must also help make up for a revenue shortfall that occurred because collections did not match anticipated revenues after reappraisal took effect.

According to Harold Zimmerman, city bookkeeper at Waveland, the taxes in that city did not go up because the Board of Aldermen was able to cut some areas in the annual budget.

Most Waveland property owners are feeling the increase in the Bay-Waveland School District tax.

However, a small part of Waveland is in the Hancock County School District and property owners there are affected by county school taxes in addition to Waveland taxes. They are not affected by Bay-Waveland School District taxes.

In addition, a section of northern Hancock County is included in the Poyune School District, where taxes also increased.

Drugs.....

Meology not only deals with drugs, but tries to deal with the total child and build resistance to peer pressure through self-esteem, Medford explained.

"We try to shock these children into realizing it's their bodies they are hurting," he said.

Ellis said the drugs about which the children are taught include alcohol and tobacco.

"They learn drugs as though you have trained a law enforcement man," she said. "They are given no misinformation about what the drugs can do to you."

"They know the difference between illegal drugs and medicines. They know that there are good drugs as well as bad drugs."

She said having local residents as teachers also helps. This year's teachers are expected to include Bobbi Maggio of Bay St. Louis and Joanne Kinney and Betsy Richards, both of Pass Christian.

Kinney also doubles as an instructor for Meology teachers along with Judy Lenore of Gulfport, now that the program is advanced enough to allow teachers to be trained locally rather than sent to the Mendez Foundation's headquarters in Florida.

"The children love it because they really do relate to the teacher. They learn to make up their own minds through education," Ellis added.

She said she hopes eventually that the program in Hancock County can advance to the level it has now reached in Jackson County, where Ellis acts only as an advisor and the teachers operate the program.

Additional information about Meology can be obtained by contacting the crime commission at 664-9825 or P.O. Box 1962, Gulfport, Miss., 39502.

NSTL test program reaches milestones

The Space Shuttle main engine test program at the National Space Technology Laboratories achieved two significant milestones this month.

Six static firings were conducted on main engines during the first two weeks of December, marking the fastest turnaround in testing since the program began in 1975.

A second milestone was reached during the two-week period with the A-1 stand surpassing 100,000 seconds of testing.

The December tests, totaling 3,120 seconds in combined duration, represent a major milestone in the main engine test program, according to Royce Mix, resident manager of the Marshall Space Flight Center's Shuttle Project Office.

Mix said the six tests conducted on the A-1 and A-2 stands in 10 days is unprecedented in the shuttle program. "We could take any two-week history in the engine test program and find that this is the largest number of tests we've conducted in such a short period of time," he said.

An increased emphasis has been placed on engine tests in preparation for returning the shuttle safely to flight in 1988. Modifications have already commenced to convert the B-1 stand from its Saturn V configuration to give NSTL a third capability for testing engines individually. Completion is scheduled for November 1987.

Rocketdyne Division of Rockwell International personnel conduct the main engine tests. Engine development is the responsibility of the Marshall Space Flight Center. The tests are conducted with technical support provided by NSTL engineers and technicians.

Film, video fellowship program outlined

Independent film and video makers living in Mississippi are eligible to apply to the Southeast Media Fellowship Program for production grants of up to $5,000 for new works or works-in-progress and for equipment access grants.

The application deadline is Feb. 2. In March a three-member panel of film and video experts will evaluate the applications and award fellowships to those artists whose work shows exceptional promise and a commitment to media as an art form.

Application forms can be obtained by contacting SEMFP c/o Appalshop, Box 743, Whitesburg, Ky. 41858, (606) 633-0108.

Film and video makers living in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia are also eligible to apply to the Southeast Media Fellowship Program which is coordinated by Appalshop, a media center located in eastern Kentucky.

SEMFP is supported by funds from the Media Program of the National Endowment for the Arts with additional support from the Mississippi Arts Commission, the Kentucky Arts Council, the Louisiana Division of the Arts, the North Carolina Arts Council, the South Carolina Arts Commission, and the Virginia Commission for the Arts.

Equipment Access Grants are made available by the South Carolina Arts Commission Media Arts Center.

SEMFP is one of seven regional fellowship programs established by the National Endowment for the Arts in an effort to recognize the geographic and artistic diversity of the media community and to encourage the growth of the media arts throughout the country.

Fourteen grants totaling $47,650 in federal and state funds were awarded in the 1985-86 round of the program.

Weekly state crop report (Covering Week of Dec. 13-19)

Low profits rule in '86 despite some record yields

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Low farm profits were again the rule for Mississippi grain farmers in 1986 despite profits for some crops on the strength of record yields.

Both corn and rice yields reached record levels in 1986. But wheat farmers again faced problems with the Hessian fly, which damaged an estimated 25,000 acres in 1986.

The total value of all grain crops—which include rice, wheat, corn, grain sorghum and hay—was $253 million in 1986, down sharply from $338 million in 1985, said Dr. Bob Williams, head of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Economics Department.

"Overall, the year for grain farmers is described as good for some and not-so-good for many," Williams said. "Rice and corn farmers who produced high yields and were enrolled in the government program made fair profits in 1986. But many others with low yields and not in the government program did not fare nearly as well."

The value of the state's two major food grain crops—rice and wheat—dropped substantially in 1986.

The value of the 1986 wheat crop is estimated at $22 million, down sharply from $40 million in 1985. The decline is primarily the result of a 33 percent smaller wheat crop than in 1985.

Rice growers harvested another record yielding crop in 1986. The average yield of 120 bushels per acre eclipsed the previous record of 119 bushels in 1985.

Despite record yields, the farm value for rice was down in 1986. The value of the 177,000-acre crop is estimated at $102 million, down from $107 million in 1985. Low prices and reduced plantings produced the lower value.

Corn yields also were a record in Mississippi in 1986. The record average of 78 bushels per acre was produced on plantings 31 percent larger than in 1985. Total production, accounting for increases in both yields and plantings, was 70 percent above 1985 levels.

Grain sorghum production in Mississippi was down sharply in 1986. The 240,000-acre crop was 62 percent below 1985, when a record 620,000 acres were harvested.

Mississippi's hay crop also was down in 1986. The total crop was 1.1 million tons, down from 1.3 million in 1985. Average yields were two tons per acre, the same as in 1985.

Bright spots for hay producers in 1986 included more plantings of improved pasture grasses and interest in alternative crops such as alfalfa.

In production agriculture news across the state last week, county Extension agents reported most field work was stalled by wet weather.

In south Mississippi Forrest County Agent Malcolm Broome said although producers didn't get to plant all of the wheat they intended, wheat planting is finished.

Franklin County Agent Ray Reynolds said all field work is at a standstill due to rainy weather. Wheat planting is complete in the county, but acreage is short of intentions.

Henry Morgan, county Extension agent in Newton County, said wheat planting is incomplete, but most producers probably won't try to finish this late in the season.

Leake County producers were able to do some harvesting early in the week, but recent rains stalled field work again, reported County Agent

Don Schmidt.

In east central Mississippi, Noxubee County Agent David Kittrell said about 25 percent of the county's soybean crop is still in the field with extensive moisture related damage.

"Most of the wheat isn't planted due to wet fields," Kittrell said. "Many producers have used aerial seeding as a last resort."

In Yalobusha and Tallahatchie counties, County Agent Doyle

Varner said about 10 percent of the soybean crop still needs harvesting, but some bean fields were flooded by recent rains.

In Chickasaw County in northeast Mississippi, County Agent Bill

Johnson said more than 30 percent of the county's soybean crop is still in the fields.

"The soybeans are deteriorating and falling on the ground," Johnson said.

COUNTY
Hans, com

MANGER SCENE—Preschoolers at Good Times Nursery School under the direction of Corinne Bontemps staged a Christmas play recently. Portraying Joseph is Steven Peterman, and Mary is Julie Cicerhi. Classmates dressed as angels, shepherds and wise men look on.

COURT DAY?—Mississippi Supreme Court Justice J. Ruble Griffin, left, talks to Attorney Albert Necaise and Judge James Thomas in the courtroom of the Hancock County Courthouse. The occasion, however, was a recent Christmas party for county employees rather than a day in court.

ATTORNEYS—Public Defender William Frisbee and Attorney John Scalfide Jr. relax after lunch at the annual Hancock County courthouse Christmas party.

CELEBRATING—Deputy circuit clerks Pam Metzler, right, and Karen Ruhr prop their drinks on the partition in front of the jury box while celebrating at a Christmas party for county employees.

COUNTY CHRISTMAS PARTY—Attorney Nicholas Haas, center, and Mrs. Nicholas Haas visit with District Attorney Cose Carasana at a recent Christmas party for county employees.

Consumer Update

By Janet K. Lukens
Coast Consumer
Management Center

Your Money in 1987

A new year always evokes resolutions to start over, do better, and make progress. Start now with 1987 resolutions to improve your financial management system. Your financial plan should include more than just a balanced checkbook and savings in the bank.

A total financial plan should include a plan for spending, borrowing, saving, protecting, and investing. Just as important as each of these, a will and estate plan are essential to a good comprehensive plan. Last but certainly not least, income tax planning must be a part of the plan.

Your budget and savings plan should be based upon your individual goals. Specific goals should be set for the short-term and the long-term as well. The budget must be flexible enough to compensate for some unknowns but strict enough to maximize savings for future goals. Plan your budget for January '87 now.

The protection part of a financial plan comes in the form of insurance for most of us. Over 50 percent of Americans are either over- or under-insured. Take time to consider each area of protection: life, property, liability, health, and disability insurance should be considered.

Amounts of insurance needed will vary with each individual's or family's situation. Worksheets for determining insurance needs can be obtained by calling the Consumer Management Center (388-4710).

Once specific amounts are determined, comparison shopping is the best way to get the deal to fit your insurance needs.

Investing, estate planning and income tax planning for most people are done best with the help of knowledgeable professionals.

The right professionals might include a tax preparer, CPA, stockbroker, tax attorney, and/or financial planner. Take the time to determine your needs, then shop around for the right person or firm to employ for these services.

Your financial plan for 1987 may be as simple as a budget, savings plan, minimal insurance, and a will. It could be as complicated as to include an income tax plan, estate plan, investment plan, and extensive insurance.

No matter how simple or complex, it deserves time and consideration to develop the plan. Take the time in 1987, it could mean a better future for you.

ETV Briefs

MOVIE MUSIC

Classical guitarist Giovanni De Chiaro of Hattiesburg recalls music from several movie classics in a special half-hour performance program to be rebroadcast at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 1, on Mississippi ETV. The program was first aired on ETV in September.

The selections include "St. Elmo's Fire," "Terms of Endearment," "The Entertainer" (from "The Sting"), "Love Story," "Dueling Banjos" (from "Deliverance") and "Through the Eyes of Love" (from "Ice Castles").

An acclaimed concert virtuoso and member of the faculty at the University of Southern Mississippi, De Chiaro has received high marks from critics for his performances, including a recital at Carnegie Hall.

St. Paul's Catholic Church

Our monthly Charismatic Mass will be celebrated by Father Harold Cohen of New Orleans. Father Cohen has been in the renewal for several years and is a popular speaker conveying the message of Christianity with an exciting fullness of the spirit. He has a daily radio program, "Just a Closer Walk with Thee" and is an active member of the committee responsible for the Southern Catholic Charismatic Conference held annually in New Orleans. Come prepared to experience and witness the gifts of the Holy Spirit working among His people at both the celebration of the Mass and at the prayer after when we join together praying with each other. Come and join us for the celebration and a good time with the Lord for an exciting New Year beginning. Praise and singing starts at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 4.

Words of Wisdom

Do not live in a hurry. Know how to separate things and how to enjoy them. Many finish their fortune sooner than their life; and then would like to go back when they find they have overleaped their mark.

Good humor is the health of the soul; sadness is its poison.

Loyalty is rare. It can only be proven under test.

A good man never dies; his spirit lives on forever.

We may give without loving, but we cannot love without giving.

Most people would rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism.

© 1987, McNaught Synd.

'Speaking Oracles of God'

By W. Edwin Kearley, Minister

THE MISSION OF CHRIST

The writer of Hebrews informed, "For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet without sin." (Hebrews 4:15)

The angel of the Lord had told Joseph concerning Mary, "She will give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus, because he will save his people from their sins. All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet: 'The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel' which means, 'God with us.'" (Matthew 1:21-23)

This is the method God chose to bring the savior to the world. Having grown from a baby to an adult and lived to be about 33 years of age, he experienced all of the emotions and trials of all men.

Therefore, we have a high priest who can intercede with experience on our behalf. Under the dispensation of Christ the priesthood was changed.

Under the Law of Moses the priesthood was from the tribe of Levi. Jesus was descended through the tribe of Judah. "For when there is a change of the priesthood, there must also be a change of the law." (Hebrews 7:12)

Therefore Christians live under the law of Christ and not under the law God gave to Moses.

Jesus said of his mission, "For the Son of Man came to seek and save what was lost. (Luke 19:10) Also he said, "...I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full." (John 10:10)

These statements tell us man is a sinner and needs to be saved. Christ is the savior. Paul said, "God made him who had no sin to be sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God." (II Corinthians 5:10)

God is a just god. God is a God of mercy. In order to save man he devised a plan that enabled the justice of God to be met through mercy. This plan required the sacrificing of his only begotten Son. Man is the sinner and the power of Jesus' shed blood is powerful enough to cleanse the sins of all mankind. The writer of Hebrews stated, "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, now crowned with glory and honor because he suffered death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone." (Hebrews 2:9)

In Ephesians we are told, "In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, in accordance with the riches of God's grace." (Ephesians 1:7)

But how do we reach the cleansing blood of Christ? Paul said he shed his blood in his death. The individual who believes in Jesus as God's son (Romans 10:9; Hebrews 11:6); repents of his sins (Luke 13:3; Acts 17:30; II Peter 3:9); confesses his faith in Christ (Romans 10:9-10) and is baptized into Christ is baptized into the death of Christ. (Romans 6:3-5) There he comes in contact with the cleansing blood of Jesus Christ. Remission of sins is obtained. (Acts 2:38; Acts 22:16)

The new child of God must continue to grow and develop as a Christian. (II Peter 3:18; I John 1:7) "But he who stands firm to the end shall be saved."

Clubs, Auxiliaries

World War I Veterans Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans World War I was held at the home of President Lois Fallo.

The usual business was dispensed with so that a Christmas party would be enjoyed.

Fast National President Pauline Charing lead the group in prayer and answered questions concerning World War I Veterans affairs.

The treasurer announced that the membership quota for 1987 for the auxiliary had been reached, but eligible new members would be welcomed.

Instead of a Christmas gift exchange contributions were placed on a charming "money tree" for a worthy cause.

A gift was given by President Fallo to each member, and her very festive holiday dinner was enjoyed by the whole group.

The auxiliary's next regular monthly meeting will be held Jan. 22 at 3 p.m. at the American Legion Home in Bay St. Louis.

Diamondhead Garden Club

The Diamondhead Garden Club announces the winners of its Christmas Lights Contest.

Residences Category: first place, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill, 78116 Hilo Way; second place, Dr. and Mrs. Arno Leshin, 8341 Moanalua Way; third place, Mr. and Mrs. James Ashely, 6557 Alakoko Way; honorable mention, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Lechler, 5462 Diamondhead Drive East and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, 5549 Diamondhead Drive East.

In the Community Organizations category the first place winner is The Oaks for its entrance; the Diamondhead Academy students won second place for the Community Tree they placed and decorated at the Plaza Circle and third place was awarded to the Boaters Association for the outdoor tree at the Marina. Diana's Hair Artists at 4405 West Aloha Drive won honorable mention.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139

The Christmas Day parade which at the beginning of the month was shortened by the inclement weather, didn't dampen the appearance of Little Miss Poppy, Joy Lynn Gillan, as she rode in a convertible escorted by Mrs. Mattie North, president, Unit 139.

Prior to Christmas, the unit distributed gifts and visited with some 50 veterans at Hotel Reed Nursing Center in Bay St. Louis and Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian.

Unit 139, through the VASC program, has participated in monthly "ice cream and cake" parties for the patients in the "locked wards" in the VA hospital in Gulfport, as well as the monthly picnics at the "Farm." The unit has also provided gifts for a monthly bingo held at the hospital in the "Rec" hall.

Mrs. Hazel Wohlschlegel, chairlady, and Mrs. Mattie North, pick up and collect wearing apparel, eye glasses, books and magazines for the veterans. Please call Mrs. Wohlschlegel at 467-5692 or Mrs. North at 467-5770 if you have any of these articles to be given to the veterans.

The auxiliary co-sponsors a sing-a-long every first Thursday of the month at the Hotel Reed Nursing and Retirement Home under the direction of Mrs. Roslyn Weathers and Mrs. Oris Planchard, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lena Mae Oustalet of Pass Christian, and Mrs. Evelyn Burns presents gifts to the residents who have birthdays during the current month.

The Unit 139 has donated about 600 gifts to the veterans' giftshops in Gulfport and Biloxi, as well as participating in the gift wrapping and the expenses incurred in the mailing of the gifts.

The Clement R. Bontemps Post and Auxiliary had their annual Christmas party and dinner at the post home; Mrs. Mattie North, president, presented life memberships to Mrs. Beryl Martagh and Mrs. Shirley Piazza for their many years of service to the auxiliary.

We wish all of our members, friends and families a very Merry Christmas and a Healthy and Happy New Year, as well as a prosperous one.
